Journey On: How To Travel the World
— Even If You're Young and Broke

Learn how to travel the world — even make money along the way!

It seems that there are a few universal human truths: we all want to fall in love, to be happy, and to travel the world. Travel is right at the top of nearly everyone's bucket list. It's just one of the things that we want to do as human beings. Outside of just scratching that itch to travel the world, there are tons of benefits to travel as well that you may not be aware of. That's right - travel is connected to numerous health benefits and greater life satisfaction, but you would never know because you're so enthralled by travel itself and living in the moment.

For many people, to travel the world is thought to be an unattainable dream. It is not something you can have right now in your prime years while you're still young (but for those of you who are a little older, remember it's never too late to travel the world and there are still tons of relevant resources). The only time you think you can travel is when you are older, after you've retired with hundreds of thousands in the bank. Or, perhaps after saving up and cutting costs while working your nine to five job, just to take a week off to travel the world and return back to the monotonous working life.

My goal in writing this eBook is to debunk the myths that you must wait until you're retired, older or rich to travel the world.

Although I am just 21 years old, I broke free from the conventional thought process and said to myself, 'screw going straight into school, screw working in my little ol' town; I am going to go off and experience the world.' Through travel, I have packed more life and experience into my years than many 80-year-olds have just by exploring uncharted territory, taking risks, and actually pursuing what I love doing.

Travel has really become my area of expertise. I have received dozens, if not hundreds, of messages from friends, acquaintances and complete strangers that have asked me how I am able to travel so much, and so this eBook was born!

The methods of traveling the world for free or while making money I uncover in this eBook are incredibly useful. Each one of them is legitimate and has been tried and tested. In this eBook, I will cover all the ways you can travel with free room and board, or even make money as you travel.

How Can You Travel the World Affordably (Or Even Make Money)?

- Teaching English Abroad. One of the most common ways to travel. I provide you the inside scoop on how to teach English as well as resources to teach online.
- Freelancing Online. While it may be intimidating at first to leave the stability of your job, becoming your own boss allows you to work from anywhere in the world.
- Crowdfunding. Often overlooked, crowdfunding is a great way to tap into some funds from people who love and support you.
- Volunteer Exchanges. Stay with hosts all around the world as you teach them your language, share your culture, work on home projects or man the front desk.
- And more! From typical methods of travel to more obscure ways, this eBook provides you with insider information on how you can travel the world affordably.

While many bloggers and authors often write about things that they have not experienced themselves, this eBook is full of anecdotal experiences that are as specific as possible so that you feel comfortable making the leap and getting out there in the world. Select the options that work best for you and start your travels. Journey on!

Download this eBook NOW for the most in-depth, comprehensive information on how to travel the world.

Sportishwear by 4Hunks

We've blurred the lines between fetishwear and sport attire in this collection. Now you get the best of both worlds. Forget about taking off your regular clothes or athletic clothes to change into your fetishwear — we've combined the two, making it more stylish and easier than ever to transition between the two settings. Feel confident and sexier than ever in these fetish play clothes.

Empower!

Here at 4-Hunks, our message has always been one of empowerment. No matter who you are, what you do, how you live, who you love, or how you play, we want you to feel empowered in doing so. Live life for yourself. Live life bold. Live life empowered. We craft more than just clothes at 4-Hunks; our fetishwear series, especially, allows men all over the world to feel more empowered and comfortable with their sexuality.

Whether you decide to wear this collection to compliment your athletic gear you wear to the gym, wear underneath your clothes at the office, or use it to dress up for fetish events and festivals, our mission in producing these outfits is to make you feel empowered.

Who wouldn't feel empowered wearing 4-Hunks?

Live More — Regret Less.

Life is full of memories, fun times, bad times, mistakes and ups and downs. Life is full of life. Life is life. One thing that shouldn't be a part of life? Regret. Life is about living bold and being true to who you are — not about what you haven't done or should have done in the past. The weight of those hypothetical questions is exhausting and toxic; live in the moment.

4-Hunks is all about living in the moment. Realize that life's too short not to eat the cake, drink the alcohol and buy the sexy sportswear! When you step into one of our bold, vivacious pieces of underwear or fetishwear, you can't help but feel full of life.

Live in the Moment. Live in 4-Hunks.

Kurta Wearhouse

Where Traditional Indian Attire Meets the Modern World

Kurta Wearhouse was founded in order to connect our customers with traditional Indian garments that are still stylish by Western standards. As many know, India is full of rich culture - at the core of that is our famous weddings and ceremonies. We want to bridge the gap between the traditional and richness of India and the rest of the world. Step into one of our garments and fully experience what it is to be Indian.

Our greatest pride is our commitment to our customers. We are never happy until you are. As a guest to the Indian culture, we want to make sure your attire is not only appropriate for the occasion, but stunning.

Dress up for the occasion in a classy, colorful and traditional Kurta.

Attend the Indian Wedding Ceremony in Style

First off, if you've been invited to an Indian wedding: congratulations! It's sure to be an unforgettable experience. Indian weddings are some of the most colorful experiences - almost as colorful as our wide selection of Kurtas. You don't have to prepare anything in advance, but you do need to have a killer outfit for the wedding. We've got your back: shop our selection now.

Where High Quality Meets Low Price

Think of Kurtas as suits - only much more elaborately designed and detailed. There's a lot of work that goes into making a stylish Kurta. We have partnered with Indian manufacturers who provided the best of the best - without a high price tag. Forget about paying a fortune for your Kurta here on the Kurta Warehouse - all of our items are priced between $99 and $329.

Hand Crafted and Custom Embroidered

Kurtas aren't just fashion - they're a work of art. We import all of our Kurtas straight from India from some of the finest artisans who work each strand and every piece of fabric turn into magic. Our designs are sure to dazzle and impress when you show up as the best man, groom, or attendee of any Indian wedding or traditional ceremony.

We thank you for visiting our site. Take a look at our exotic Kurtas and feel the zest of India pump through your veins. As always, feel free to contact with any questions.

McKenzie Friends FAQ

With so much terminology and legal jargon out there, you may be asking yourself: what is a McKenzie Friend? We're here to break that down for you and explain why it is oftentimes necessary (and much more cost effective) to pursue your legal disputes alongside expert, professional McKenzie Friends.

Here at South Cotswold Family Law, we act as McKenzie friends, but you may be wondering how exactly we can help you and what limits we have, as well as how we differ from Solicitors and Barristers. Let's break down what McKenzie friends are so that you fully understand how exactly we can help you and increase your chances of winning your case or simply help carry out a contract or will.

McKenzie Friends 101: The Basics

McKenzie Friends, often referred to as “Litigation Friends”, act as the name implies. We help you as your “friend” with any process during the litigation process. There are some important things to note, however. McKenzie Friends are not able to address a judge on your behalf (which is reserved for Barristers) and cannot cross-examine your opponent. Additionally, we have less strict restrictions than those imposed on Solicitors by the Law Society and Solicitors Regulation Authority. Because of that, we are able to work closely alongside you as experts in the field as professional McKenzie friends without incredibly high costs.

While it may seem like we are very limited in what we can do, in fact we can help you with the bulk of your legal proceedings you would like to undertake. Basically, we are there for you for everything except for representing you in the court (however, exceptions can be made for cases of domestic violence, in which case we will fight our hardest for you).

McKenzie friends came about in the 70's with the groundbreaking case of McKenzie vs. McKenzie, which changed the way cases are carried out since then in England and Wales. To give you a brief history on how McKenzie Friends came about, according to Wikipedia: “Levine McKenzie, who was petitioning for divorce, had been legally aided but the legal aid had been withdrawn before the case went to court. Unable to fund legal representation, McKenzie had broken off contact with his solicitors.”

To make a long story short, since that ruling after Levine McKenzie broke ties with his solicitor, he decided to enlist the assistance of an Australian lawyer that couldn't practice law due to not having the proper requirements in the United Kingdom, who sat in on the ethereal and coached him in the legal process.

What Kinds of Services Do McKenzie Friends Provide?

McKenzie friends are able to assist you with just about everything in the legal process, minus actually representing you in person. It differs by area of law, but here at South Cotswold law, where we specifically focus on Family Law, we generally assist you with:

- Strategic advice on your financial or child dispute.
- Advise on the mediation, collaborative law, arbitration and court processes
- Communicate with your ex-partner/spouse to try and reach agreement
- Refer you and your opponent to a skilled family law mediator
- Prepare court application where an ex-spouse will not sign the acknowledgement of service
- Advise on the types of financial remedies available to unmarried people
- Explain the purpose of contact centres, process servers and other agencies.
- Explain the role and remit of the CAFCASS officer and the judge.
- Prepare the necessary court application forms
- Accompany you to court to offer moral support and advice
- Prepare a letter of instruction for an expert.
- Help you to draft a witness statement in accordance with court protocol.
- Advise on and prepare trial bundles for use in court.

- Research case law and prepare a skeleton argument/position statement on your behalf.
- Help you to instruct a competent barrister if appropriate.
- Draft consent orders, and associated court forms, in financial proceedings.
- Explain the purpose of, and prepare on your behalf, a separation agreement for financial aspects.
- Prepare a Will on your behalf.
- Advise on and issue enforcement proceedings if appropriate.
- Notice of Severance of joint tenancy for a property
- Domestic violence

How Do I Find a Qualified McKenzie Friend?

Finding the right, professional McKenzie friend may be a bit of a challenge. Because McKenzie friends simply act as advisors and do not actually represent you in the courts, they can not be held accountable for any bad advice. Fortunately, there are tons of great McKenzie friend out there that offer affordable rates and can facilitate you with all for the processes you need to take up with the courts.

What it ultimately comes down to is experience and cases won. Here at South Cotswold Family Law, we have tons of cases won and heaps of clients that have walked away fully satisfied with a ruling that has worked in their favor. Take a look at our “Case Studies” for yourself and see just how much we have helped our clients. We can do the same for you.

Can't I Just Write Up a Contract Myself?

Yes, absolutely. It's entirely up to you and in your hands. However, as your McKenzie friend, things will be much more sound legally, in the proper form, and completely ready to present before the courts or litigation without any loopholes. We really take into account any counter arguments or disputes that can arise when mapping out our contracts by taking the time to understand the background and unique situation of each case.

That's why it's highly recommended to contact a McKenzie friend. McKenzie friends are legal experts, without the heavy costs of hiring a solicitor. We will assist you all throughout the process, providing immaculate legal support and friendly service.

How Much Does a McKenzie Friend Cost?

Since McKenzie friends essentially act as advocates and assist you with the processes and paperwork of law, rather than appearing before the courts, they are able to set their own rates, which differ by each individual or firm. As a general rule of thumb, McKenzie friends are still significantly cheaper than going through a solicitor.

For more information on our rates, which are flat “fixed fee” rates, or by the hour. Please consult the “my fees” page on South Cotswold website here. We offer extremely affordable rates compared to standard solicitors and may, in fact, increase your chances of winning because we actually take the time to understand the client’s situation on an individual basis and are able to construct a strong, compelling argument.

What Are The Pros and Cons of Using a McKenzie Friend?

As a general rule, you should always consult an expert McKenzie friend for any court proceeding. Whether it’s simply creating a will, providing advice on whether you should go through the court or through a mediation service, or simply to see what your options are in the area of Family Law, we will walk you through all of your steps and weigh out the pros and cons of each. You may be deciding whether you want to use a McKenzie friend or not. Here are some reasons why you should and some reasons why it may not be advantageous.

➤ Pros of McKenzie Friends:

- Cheaper alternative than using a solicitor. Solicitors can cost you several thousands of dollars, whereas McKenzie friends are able to provide much lower prices due to looser restrictions placed on McKenzie friends. In the end, you can save a significant amount of money while receiving similar, or better, advice in Family Law.
- Sound legal advice that you can’t get alone. Let’s face it: law is complicated. That’s why McKenzie friends are there to help. McKenzie friends really break things down, and carry out much of the work for you. McKenzie friends have devoted significant amounts of their time in the field of law and are experts in the field. While using a McKenzie Friend may require a fee, it will often yield results that can increase your chance of winning more money than if you did it alone.
- Simplified paperwork and court proceedings. Your life is probably complicated and stressful enough. Leave it in our hands to carry out the work for you. This is our area of expertise; let us do what we know best, so you can continue to live your life without the added stress of carrying out court proceedings.
- Friendly, supportive service. Going through divorce, battling it out for custodial responsibility of your children, and drawing up a will, among other things, can be incredibly draining. That’s why we will be there for you every single step of the way and walk you through the entire process.
- Act as a liaison between you and a former spouse or other opponent. This is incredibly difficult for many clients. Sometimes ties have been completely severed and you no longer wish to speak with a former spouse or partner, or another family member. Rather than rubbing salt on the wounds and communicating with them, McKenzie friends will be in your corner acting as the bridge between you and your partner.

➤ Cons of McKenzie Friends

- Not free. While costs are incredibly low compared to using a solicitor, there are still some costs. Again, this can often save you money in the long run by providing you with a positive ruling in the courts, but there is still an upfront fee. Kindly view our affordable rates we offer on the “My Fees” section.
- Some restrictions on what McKenzie Friends can do. Unfortunately, McKenzie friends are not able to represent you in the courts. However, while we do not have the right of audience, we can however provide you with the best resources possible and help assess if it'd be best for you to represent yourself or go through a barrister.

I Have a Very Specific Question That I Don't See Covered On Here.

Making dozens of cold emails warmer.

Dear Customer,

First and foremost: thank you for shopping with us at PATPET via Amazon. You recently purchased one of our products, the PATPET Dog Training Collar, and we wanted to follow up with you to see how it's going. Ensuring that our customers are fully satisfied is crucial to us; that's why we are contacting you. We want to see how you're liking the new Dog Training Collar (or, maybe you're not liking it at all).

One of the differences between PATPET and other online pet accessory retailers is that we take the time to really listen to our customers concerns and comments. But, it doesn't just end there. We take action. As it's said, actions speak louder than words. So if you have any problem whatsoever we would love to address those issues with you in whichever way is necessary.

Primarily, we would love it if you could leave a few comments for us (either via email, or preferably on Amazon if you loved our product) regarding the following:

- The fit of the collar. Was it too snug and tight? Or too loose? How was it adjusting the collar?
- Your overall satisfaction and the quality of the product given the price point.
- The effectiveness of the three training functions. As you probably know by now, we have used three effective training methods on the collar: the shock, vibrator, and beep. Which one seems to be most effective for your dog?
- Has training been more productive with your dog with the collar?
- Is there anything from an aesthetic standpoint that can be changed (i.e. changing the appearance of the collar)
- And any other comments you may have

As you're probably already aware, receiving positive feedback is crucial to a business on Amazon. The more feedback we have, the more others are willing to buy our collar for their pets and experience the ease of training with their animals as well. That's why we would love it if you could take the time (roughly a minute!) to leave a quick review on Amazon on our behalf.

The link to our product can be found here: <https://www.amazon.com/dp/B06Y2BJM4H>. We would greatly appreciate if you could touch on what you loved about our product.

Thank you so much and have a great day,
PATPET
